

My work requires me to travel all over the USA. I like having the traffic and weather of whatever town I am in at my fingertips whenever I need it. XM gives me that option in a convenient way without having to hunt around the am dial for a station that may fade out and cannot offer the frequency of updates or the depth of information that XM offers.